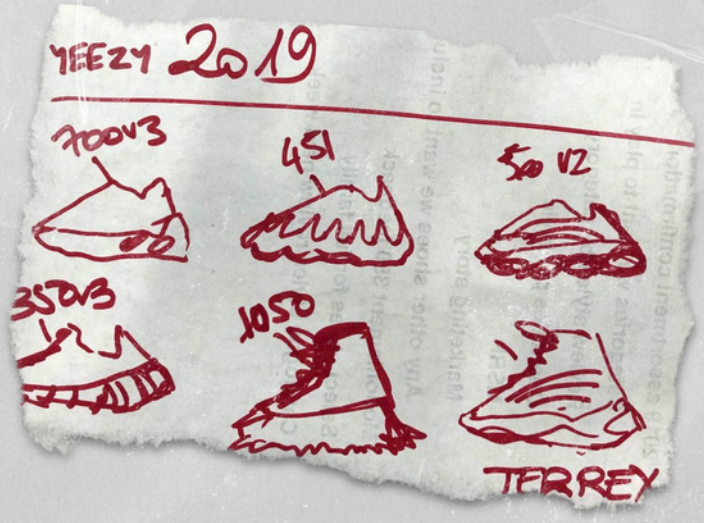
Project Redemption
(Confidential)

Introductions



Judie

Hi everyone! My name is Judie Fakhoury. I am currently an 11th grader in SABIS and this is my second chairing experience! I love anything Loki, spiderverse, or Deadpool related, and I've been a Melanie Martinez fan since late 2019. I'm looking forward to chairing you all, and I really do hope you guys get the best experience out of this committee.

Diddys (Ahmed)

Whats good yall Im Ahmed Idris AKA Ahmediddys AKA the best chair out right now. Im also an 11th grader in SABIS. I am the biggest Ye fan you'll ever meet so I was properly entrusted with this committee (Thanks Youssef) Im looking forward to chairing you guys cuz its my last experience so i wanna go out with a bang!!

Welcome.

"People always say you cant satisfy everyone. I say thats a bullshit stance. You should try to satisfy everyone."

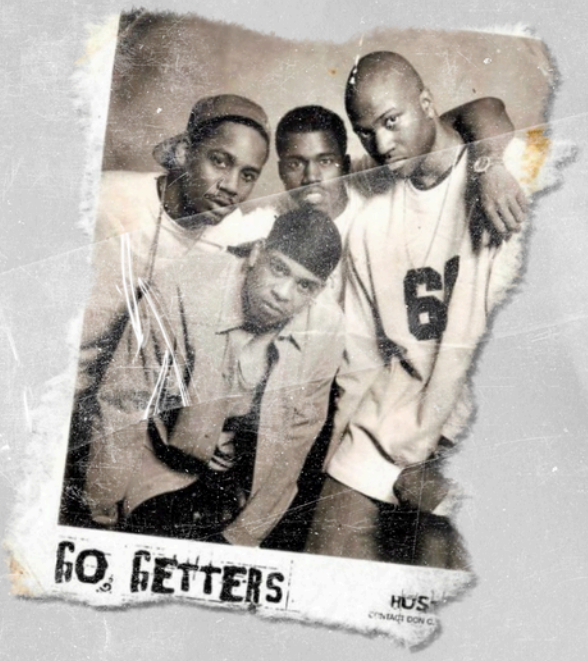
To the Delegates of CAC,

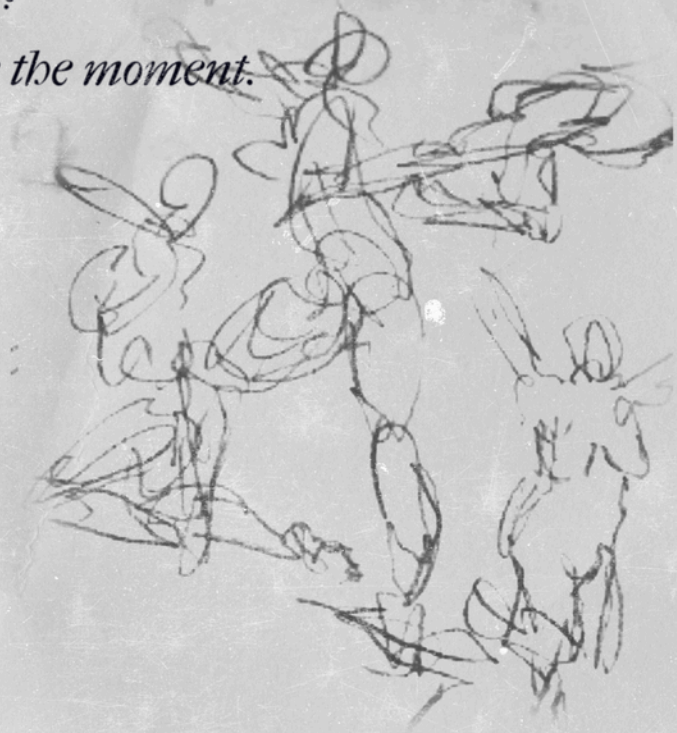
Welcome to the room where history isnt yapped about, it's shaped, remixed, and remastered.

In September 2009, a single moment on an award show stage shattered the narrative of one of music's greatest visionaries. Public outrage was immediate, corporate partners retreated, and the world demanded accountability.

You represent the people of fantasies. the most famous of our population. rival artists, media empires, executives, and key figures surrounding Ye at this pivotal crossroads. Your job is to pilot this career through the shitstorm. Will you steer Ye toward cultural redemption, insulate his creative genius, or exploit his chaos to bring about his public downfall?

The mic is in your hands. Do not waste the moment.





Back to Basics:

If you are already familiar with MUN procedure, you may skip this page.

This page explains basic MUN terms, for people unfamiliar with procedure.

Speech: A 1:00 to 1:30 long speech given at the start to clarify stance on the topic at hand.

POI: A question asked by another delegate to the current speaker after their speech.

Follow-up: a second question asked after a POI by the same delegate. Usually used to "trap" delegates in their own words.

Crisis Update: A change in events in the committee, influenced by past actions and influencing future procedure.

Directive: A small body of text submitted by a delegate stating the delegation as well as the action done by the delegates. These are to be submitted to the chairs in secret and used strategically Position papers: A document written by every delegate that clarifies their stance. This will be elaborated on later on.

Read a sample here:

What is Expected of Delegates?

Before the Conference, Delegates are expected to Provide the following:

Position Paper: This document outlines the stance of the delegation on Ye's Redemption and if it is even possible. The position paper must also outline past actions the delegation has done to support Ye, as well as the relation they have with him. Keep this accurate to reality.

Opening speech: Opening speeches are what is basically the spoken form of the Position paper. Outlining the stance on Ye's redeemability, as well as Ye as a person.

NOTE - IMPORTANT!!!!!!!: THE OPENING SPEECH IS SET IN 2009 RIGHT AFTER THE VMAs INCIDENT. DELEGATES MUST REFLECT THE SHOCK AND DISREGARD HINDSIGHT.

Straying from normal committee procedure, delegates are very strongly urged to provide what I call the "Redemption Album"

A redemption album is what the delegation thinks would be Ye's "Redeeming Album" to redeem him from his actions. The criteria for this is as follows:

Albums must tie in closely with the submitting delegation, meaning that the delegation must have influenced Ye on this project, whether that be in a beef or as a collaborator.

Albums must have a Name, Cover, and a Tracklist. Having the tracklist be playable songs is not necessary but still you are strongly urged to do so.

Any addition that the delegate wants to include may also be listed. This is to let non-artist delegations have tie ins. For example, A clothing line could have a tie-in merch release alongside the album.

Position papers and Redemption Albums are to be submitted to the chairs privately.

Tip: Click the disc to redirect

Procedure...

Most Segments of Procedure play out like this:
Speech
POI
Response from the speaker
Next POI until done
Speaker Sits down
Next.

OPENING SPEECHES: Set in September of 2009, Delegates will embody the Shock that comes from then Kanye West interrupting Taylor Swift.

INTERMISSION I: Time for submitting private directives. Chairs may also use this time to decide future events. Time will also be used to send motions in the group chat.

MODERATED CAUCUS I: Follows the above structure, Delegates speak on the topic decided by the winning motion.

INTERMISSION II: Same as above.

MODERATED CAUCUS II: Follows above structure, Delegates speak on topic decided by winning motion, or under unanimous vote by delegates to speak on crisis update. If the latter is picked, delegates will speak reacting to the crisis update (similar to in opening speech)

INTERMISSION III: Delegates will use this time to submit crisis updates, as well as form blocs and draft resolutions.

RESOLUTIONS: Document elaborated on later.

The segment follows this structure:

Main submitter reads out Resolution, Main and Cosubmitters give a speech together on the resolution as a whole.

For speech: a given amount of delegates from the submitting bloc give a speech on why you SHOULD vote for this resolution (glazing)

Against speech: the same amount of delegates from whatever bloc give speeches on why you SHOULDNT vote for this resolution (shittalking)

After resolutions, The chairs will announce the final event. Will Ye retire as the greatest of all time, or will he fade into obscurity?

NOTE: Througout procedure there can be crisis updates at any time. Delegates are expected to think quickly and deeply and react quickly to these events as the committee gets more and more chaotic.

Resolutions...

Resolutions are the final segment of procedure.

A resolution is provided by a bloc (group of delegates who agree on a solution)

The header specifies who is involved in the bloc

Main submitter: The main delegate "responsible" for the resolution.

Co-Submitters: Also responsible for the resolution but not as much.

Sponsors: Members of the submitting bloc.

Signatories: Delegates who would like to see this resolution discussed.

The body is split into 2 sections:

Preambulatory Clauses, and Operative Clauses

Preambulatory Clauses:

Explain what has happened before in committee, as well as the events taken into consideration in this resolution

Operative Clauses:

Explain what this resolution plans to do, as well as what is achieved by these action.

Read a sample here:

NOTE: AFTER THE RESOLUTIONS IN THIS COMMITTEE, YE WILL RETIRE. THE DECISION OF HIS PUBLIC IMAGE PAST RETIREMENT IS DECIDED BY THE ACTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE.

YeX

This is a new one - for this committee, us chairs made a TWITTER CLONE (With the help of Adam Khudair) called YeX.

YeX will be used to announce crisis updates, and delegates will be able to react to them in real time.

HOW TO TWEET:

Tweeting on YeX is essential to the flow of this committee's procedure. after sending in a private directive, delegates must tweet -in character- about the private directive.

eg: delegate of Taylor Swift discovers demos in which Ye says very bigoted things.

Delegate then tweets something along the lines of:

During the next crisis update, it will be revealed if this directive was accepted or not.

If it was: It is now canon to the timeline.

If it wasn't: It is disregarded as misinformation.

NOTE: Any overly out of character tweets will be removed.

These notes outline all of committee procedure. If you are still confused or hesitant, feel free to ask the chairs.

This committee rewards quick thinking, logic, and creativity, and we hope that all delegates can achieve this.

Best of luck, delegate.

- the CAC Chairing Team

Official Committee Soundtrack: